Foundations of Kettle Dyeing & Dyeing Variegated Yarns

with Kris Jenkins

Kris has been a colorist for 34 years before moving into the fiber world 8 years ago. She has taken intensive dye workshops with Natalie Redding. Knowledge of color theory enables her to assist those just getting started in dyeing.

Kris owns the Indie Dye Company
alkandme fiber art studio

"alk&me is a love for all that is fiber, color and creativity. there's chemistry and artful thought process behind the hues. mostly though... it's a passionate calling for all things fiber"

Thursday -April 18, 2024
9 AM – 3 PM

This workshop will include about 45 minutes of foundational knowledge in kettle dyeing. Then we will continue to learn 5 ways to dye variegated yarns using various heat and techniques. Each attendee will leave with 5 skeins of yarn in various bases to learn how different dyes take to different fibers.
